In Re: Sprint-United Tariff 2003-710 to Introduce Safe and Sound II Solution
Docket No. 03-00442

BELLSOUTH TELECOMMUNICATIONS, INC.'S
MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

BellSouth Telecommunications, Inc. ("BellSouth") files this Motion for Reconsideration in the above-referenced docket.

On December 15, 2003 the panel assigned in this docket voted to deny the tariff on the basis of resale concerns articulated with respect to this bundled offering.

The Order in this docket is being considered by separate panels evaluating different bundled offerings, including offerings that are not single-price bundles and offerings that involve unregulated services offered by companies other than ILECs. Because the Authority has indicated its intention to be guided by the decision of this panel, with respect to this bundle, and apply that decision to other bundles, BellSouth respectfully requests that the panel reconsider its decision in order to provide the parties with an opportunity to present oral argument addressing both the legal issues common to this bundle and other bundled offerings as well as the policy issues which may differ depending on the services bundled together. Specifically, in the context of information services and internet technology, the application of resale requirements could chill the offering of discounts relating to these newer services as well as next generation services of this type.

For these reasons, BellSouth respectfully requests that the panel reconsider its order denying the tariff and permit the parties to present oral argument in connection with these legal and policy issues.

Respectfully submitted,

BELLSOUTH TELECOMMUNICATIONS, INC.
